FIDDLER ON THE ROOF JR.

LTC's Children's Summer Theater Workshop performed this abridged tale of the classic musical of a Russian Jewish family during the Revolution and their encounter with changing traditions. Performances were June 29 and 30.

Ball drop to raise funds

The Lincoln Trail College men's basketball team will sponsor a unique fund-raiser that may just put an extra $1,000 in a lucky person's pocket.

According to Coach Mike Ray, golf balls are now available for purchase at the cost of $10 per ball. The last week of July, the numbered balls will be dropped out of a helicopter hovering 20 feet above one of the greens at Quail Creek Country Club. The owner of the ball or balls that stay in the cup will divide the $1,000 prize money. There is no limit to the number of golf balls that may be purchased by a single individual. All proceeds will benefit the men's basketball team.

For more information, or to purchase golf balls, call 618-544-8657, ext.

Network is a joint project of Lincoln Trail College & Lincoln Trail College Foundation

1203 or ext. 1204.

Writing contest deadline July 30

Area residents with an interest in creative writing have an opportunity to win $500 as part of the James Jones Lincoln Trail Creative Writing Contest.

Submissions must be original, at least 1,500 words, typed and include the required cover page. The author's name is to appear on the cover page only, not on the manuscript. All pages are to be numbered and include the short story title on the top left of every page.

To be considered for the award, writers must be: a high school senior or at least 18 years old or older officially residing in Crawford or Clark County, Ill.; or an LTC graduate. Students who have already earned

LTC credit, high school seniors graduating this spring who will attend LTC at least part-time during the next academic year and current LTC students are particularly encouraged to enter their stories.

Applicants cannot have been published professionally (meaning received payment).

Submissions must be turned in to Danelle Hevron in the LTC Marketing Office no later than July 30, 2012. Cover pages are available from the LTC Eagleton Learning Resource Center and online at www.iecc.edu/ltc and www.jamesjonesliterarysociety.org. JJLS reserves the right not to award the $500 should there be an insufficient number of entries or no entry is judged acceptable.

Hands-on classes under way at LTC

Learn basic chalk pastel technique in a fun summer class offered July 10 through 31 at Lincoln Trail College.

Angie Compton will teach Chalk Pastels (ART 2198) from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesdays in Williams Hall 111.

Students will create four works of art during this informative class.

Students will need a chalk pastel set of 24 or more colors, chalk pastel pencils, tortillions and workable fixative spray for this credit class.

Non-credit Basic Crochet began July 3 at LTC.

Instructor Emily Gullett is teaching the class which meets from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesdays July 3 to 31 in Williams Hall 114. Students will learn terms, techniques, pattern reading and basic stitches during this summer class which features a new project each night.

Cost is $30 per person. Students will need to bring a size H or I crochet hook and Red Heart Yarn in a pastel or bright solid color.

Robot battle nets funds for charity

Lincoln Trail College's April 4 "Bot Battle." The battle, conducted in the Zwermann Arts Center Theater, is a component of the PTT 1205 Tech Reading, Writing, and Reporting in which students build computerized robots.

Spring term honors announced

Lincoln Trail College has released its academic honors lists for the Spring 2012 Semester. Three lists have been established by Illinois Eastern Community Colleges to indicate students who have achieved academic excellence.
