 Tyra Winkler, Fairfield

Following the introductions, the band will resume playing.

The event will be held on the lawn east of Foundation Hall under a big, white tent. Guests will be treated to an ice cream sundaes, popcorn, and water.

Firefighting Training at FCC

The Emergency Preparedness Program at Frontier Community College is offering firefighting training on campus beginning August 25. Classes will be held during the day from 8 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and will meet two days a week (various days) with instructors Aaron Brown and Andrew Miller. The class will end November 12.

EPF 1208, Firefighting Fundamentals, is designed as an introductory course to provide students with knowledge and skills in regards to fire behavior, tools, equipment, and safety practices. The course is designed to prepare individuals for the Office of the Illinois State Fire Marshal's (OFSM) Level: Basic Operations Firefighter certification.

Tuition is waived for in-district students. Textbooks and additional fees may apply. For additional information, or to register, call Frontier Community College's Emergency Preparedness Program at (618) 842-3711, ext. 4426, or 1-877-464-3687.

LRC Staff Changes

Robert Tennyson has moved into the full-time Library Assistant position in the Learning Resource Center and Lisa Scarbrough has been hired as a part-time Library Clerk.

Tennyson joined FCC's staff in November 2011 as the part-time Library Clerk in the LRC. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Southern Indiana (2011) and a two-year associate degree from Frontier Community College (2008).

Lisa began working at FCC on August 11. Prior experience includes working part-time in local retail and at Airtex Products in the customer service department.

FCC Student Ambassadors Selected for 2014-2015

Frontier Community College has selected Student Ambassadors for the 2014-2015 academic year. Sarah Pickens and Madeline Richards will be responsible for promoting unity and engagement among the FCC student body; recruiting prospective students; and promoting district- and campus-wide events, activities, and programs. This program serves to enrich and enhance leadership and communication skills and professional development while creating long-lasting connections to Frontier Community College.

Sarah is in her second year at FCC, and will graduate in May 2015 with an Associate in Science and Arts degree and Health Informatics certificates.

Madeline begins her freshman year at FCC this fall. Her goal is to complete to complete the two-year associate degree in one year and graduate in May 2015. She plans to transfer to Murray State University in Murray, Kentucky.
