A BRAND NEW LOOK AT WVC

BRUBECK UNVEILS NEW AWNING

The Brubeck Theatre has recently undergone a remarkable transformation, updating its facade with a modern, sleek awning. Moving away from its traditional circular design, the new awning presents a contemporary look that revitalizes the entrance and enhances the overall aesthetic of the building.

In just a few weeks, the renovation has completely changed the facade, creating a more inviting and open approach to the theatre. The new design not only modernizes the appearance but also improves the functionality and accessibility for patrons.

This upgrade is part of a broader effort to enhance the theatre's facilities, ensuring it remains a top destination for performing arts in the community. There's sure to be a promising and more vibrant and dynamic experience for all visitors!

MEZZANINE MAKEOVER

The Brubeck Theatre isn't the only space at Wabash Valley College receiving a makeover. Alongside the theatre's new sleek awning, the Spencer Sports Center's mezzanine is also undergoing significant improvements. New furniture has arrived and is scheduled to be placed once the flooring installation is complete.

The updated mezzanine will provide a comfortable and inviting area for visitors of athletic coaches, as well as students. It will serve as a perfect lounge for those waiting for meetings and appointments. These enhancements are part of WVC's ongoing efforts to improve campus facilities and ensure a welcoming environment for everyone. A new black draw curtain has also been added to minimize distractions from the court and on the mezzanine.

Stay tuned for the unveiling of these exciting new spaces that promise to elevate the campus experience!

MOVING WITH PURPOSE

Wabash Valley College is proud to announce that our campus vehicles have been updated with new decals! Now, as our vans travel, the public will easily recognize our school and know how to reach us, thanks to the prominently displayed website on each decal (iecc.edu/wvc).

This upgrade not only enhances the visibility of WVC but also serves as a mobile advertisement, spreading the word about our college wherever we go. It's an exciting time to be a Warrior, and we look forward to seeing our newly branded vehicles on the road!

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

Patrick Harris has been academic advisor and head women's soccer coach for the past 7 years. At the start of the season, his roles become very busy and this year, as his family prepares for new addition, more has been added to "the chaos" as he puts it. But that doesn't bother Harris as he thrives under pressure.

His favorite thing about Mount Carmel is the tight knit community where everybody knows everybody. The fact that the community is supportive of the soccer program and the school in general is nice. Being from Edwards County, Harris looks forward to the season starting and the team coming together as this time of the year is like Christmas for him. With the excitement of new team members and no one playing against each other, anything is possible; "that's good."

"We're super excited for this year's team. My goal is to get a little bit better every year, so hopefully this year we can crack the code and play in the regional championship again, and win it this time. We did it two years ago and we came up short but hopefully this fall we've got the right girls and play to make it happen."

SUMMER CAMPS AT WVC CONTINUES!

Wabash Valley College is thrilled to offer a variety of engaging summer camps designed to inspire and entertain students of all ages. In Mid July, we're hosting our popular volleyball camp, where young athletes can hone their skills under the guidance of experienced coach, Rachel Refenes. For those with a passion for the arts, our theatre camp provides an opportunity to explore acting, stage production, and performance techniques.

Additionally, we're proud to announce the return of our 2nd Annual Music Camp. Happening at the end of July, this camp promises to be a hit with budding musicians, offering sessions in instrumental and vocal training, music theory, and ensemble performance.

These camps not only provide a fun and educational experience but also foster a sense of community and personal growth. Join us at WVC this summer and discover your passion!
